ALMA MATER

*As the evening shades are falling,
And the day fades into night;
Pause a moment in the gloaming
To salute the Red and White.*

*Flag of red, our badge of courage
With your gleaming letters white;
Emblem of our Alma Mater,
Guide us onward toward the right.*

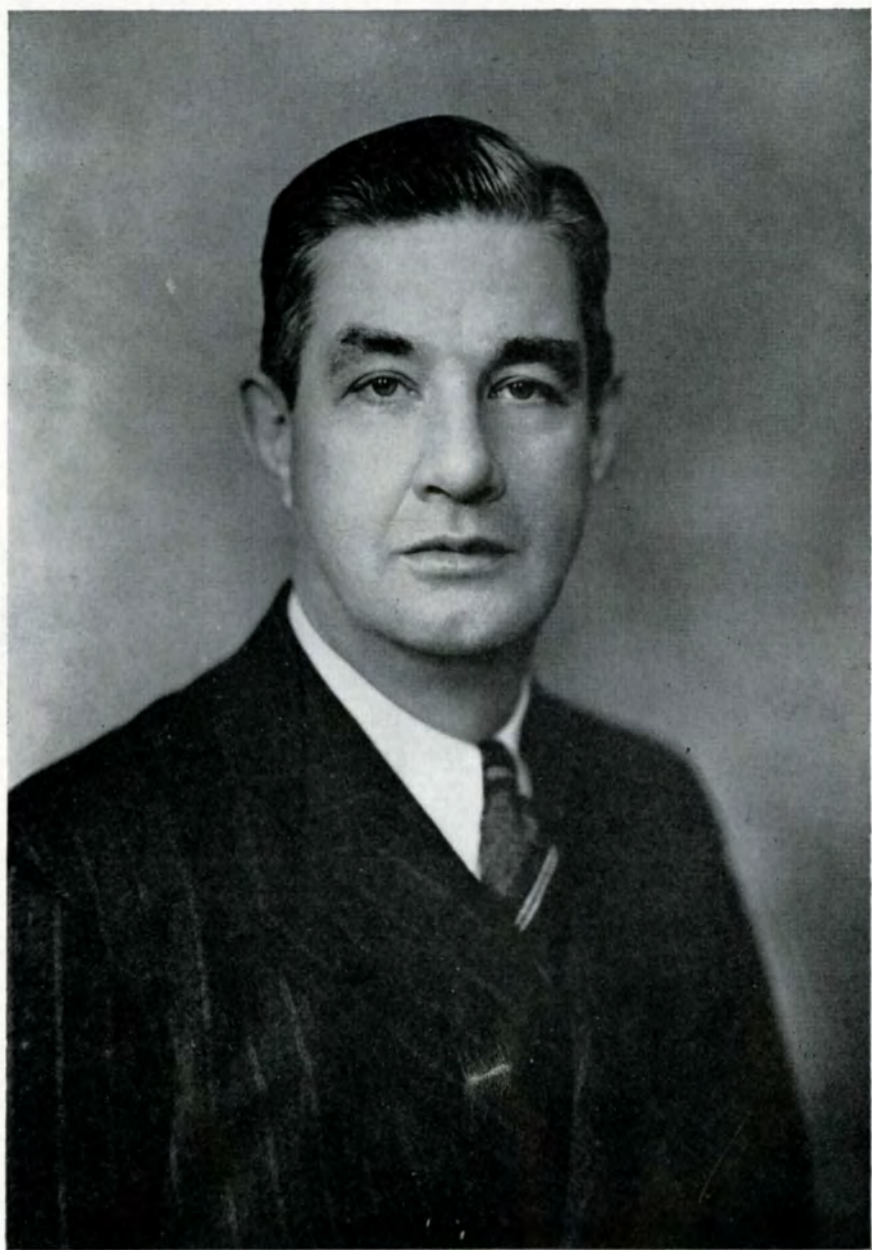

*Though our ways may part forever,
In our hearts there shall be bright
All the golden memories gathered
'Neath the banner Red and White.*

*Flag of red, our badge of courage,
With your gleaming letters white;
Emblem of our Alma Mater,
Guide us onward toward the right.*

As the evening shades are falling

OUR PRESIDENT

*He lives a realistic today
so that we may live a rich tomorrow*

1944 CARDINAL

As we move closer to the postwar years, the future of our College becomes of paramount importance to our students, our alumni and faculty. In the war years that have passed and in those which may be ahead, a new world emerges, a world in which through choice and of necessity, the American teacher, as the pioneer of a new era, must play an ever more significant part.

Through these trying years our College has kept faith. Large numbers of our youth have gone to the far reaches of the earth; others serve daily in the schools and communities of our country. Those who are with us have been always eager to do all and more than is required. It is this ideal and this effort that are building our College for the postwar years. Our plans envision an ever greater service to the youth of the State; our hopes extend far beyond the good achievement of the present.

To the Junior Class whose CARDINAL this is, and to all of our student body, alumni and friends, we extend our gratitude for tasks accomplished. To them as architects of our College for the postwar years we dedicate the future of our Alma Mater in the full knowledge that today's vision will become the realization of tomorrow.

CHARLES C. WARD,
President.

OUR FACULTY

Dean Lewis, Miss Norton, Dr. Peterson, Miss Champagne, Miss Mueller, Dr. Ward,
Miss Waldron, Miss McGaulley, Miss McLaughlin, Dr. Redcay, Miss Morrison, Miss Appleton.

Mrs. McMahon, Miss Sullivan, Miss Detraz, Miss Berg, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Sibley,
Mr. Moyer, Miss Wild, Miss Berry, Miss Tomkins, Miss Tripato.

OUR FACULTY

Miss Burwash, Miss Buntin, Dr. Rusterholtz, Miss J. Lewis, Miss Allen, Miss Park,
Mr. F. O. Smith, Mr. MacFarlane, Miss Pinkham, Mrs. Parsons, Miss Willey,
Miss E. Lewis, Miss Ivanisin.

Dr. Diebolt, Mr. Wiley, Mr. C. Smith, Dr. Ehlers, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Noyes,
Dr. Harlan, Mr. Hartman, Dr. Chaconas, Miss Hoxie, Miss Bowers, Mrs. Fairchild, Miss Backus.

DEDICATION

While on the world's war fronts the crescendo of victory rises, we fashion our new tomorrows. We see a world in which man shall master the mysteries of science and enlighten a triumphant generation. Emerging from a sky now overcast, we see a dream of hope for those who follow. May the PSTC of tomorrow fulfill their lives and strengthen their souls with the same intangible qualities that make living rich and beautiful. To this dream we dedicate ourselves and our book, so that future generations may be molded by the same spirit that has formed our being.

Junior Class Song

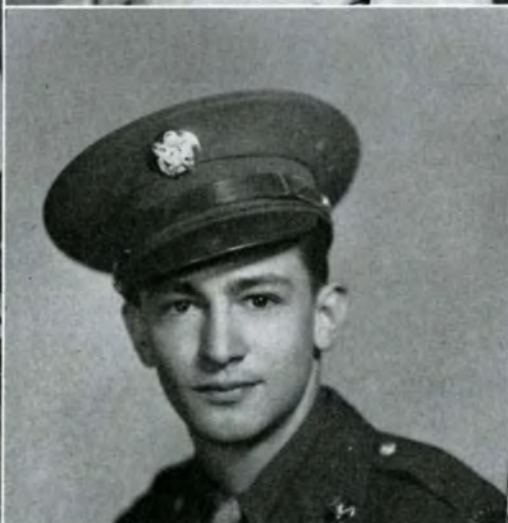

*Together we are striving
For the goal we have in view;
And to our dear Alma Mater
We shall all be ever true.*

*Although our course may seem uncharted,
And our ship too far at sea,
We shall all sail on together
For our goal is victory.*

*Through our four years as classmates,
Uphold the green and white.
Through fair and stormy weather
We shall keep our hearts alight.*

*Although our course may seem uncharted,
And our ship too far at sea,
We shall all sail on together
For our goal is victory.*

Three Weeks Before "G" Day

Junior Picnic—Tuesday, May 16

It was an individualistic Junior class that defied the traditional procedure of Junior week—that of cutting class for a mere afternoon. These bold bravados declared an all-day "sneak session"—Results—warning to future juniors—Don't try it!!!!

Junior Banquet—Wednesday, May 17

The proclamation of an evening of merriment, when scholastic cares were toasted away.

Junior Prom—Saturday, May 20

The deck of the "Good Ship Lollipop" was crowded with couples eagerly awaiting the ceremonious crowning of the Junior Queen. The moonlight sail of the "Lollipop" was a busman's holiday for its nautical crew.

Class of 1942 Reunion—Saturday, Sunday, May 27, 28

"We shall be true through all our days"

Senior Ball—Saturday, June 3

"This is a lovely way to spend an evening"—after the opening session of exams.

Senior Picnic—Tuesday, June 6

Flies, hot dogs, and sun burn—Ah, the life of a senior!!

Senior-Faculty Dinner—Wednesday, June 7

Recollections of classes cut—All is forgiven.

Baccalaureate—Thursday, June 8

A serious thought for a solemn moment.

Class Day and Moving Up—Friday, June 9

"We are the Seniors—
We sit over here—"

They care not who may write the college songs, so they may make the college laws. And they did a splendidous job this knotty war year—those meditatively argumentative members of the House of Delegates, major governing body of Plattsburgh State Teachers College. They solved financial problems, supervised social affairs, stimulated assemblies, directed student life, got a "juke box" to make music, and built broad bases for the future with wise Constitutional amendment and Hospitalization Insurance Plans submitted to the student body, whose representatives they are.

The "Council" is composed of the officers and the standing committees of the House of Delegates. It functions as a clearing house for the problems to be discussed by the House. Headed by the President of the House of Delegates, this body meets bi-weekly to clear the way for more efficient and democratic student government.

They Rule the Residences

Here are the girls who bind and loose and solve the housing problems for the co-ed of Plattsburgh State Teachers College. They're progressive young women who make the laws change with the times. They gave ten-thirty Sunday nights to all, and ten-o'clock every night to Seniors. They made vacationing ration points behave themselves uniformly. They've seen Plattsburgh housewomen through a democratic year. Their successors will see other Plattsburgh girls through democratic tomorrows.

They Rule the Frats

Here are the girls who hold the reins that generously govern our three active sororities: Alpha Delta Theta, Alpha Kappa Phi, Phi Kappa Pi. In lieu of the hitherto annual "Interfrat-Dance," the Council last year sponsored a coffee hour which proved to be an enjoyable innovation in the College Wartime Calendar. The job of regulating sorority affairs such as rushing and pledging is by no means an easy task. But the conscientious endeavors of this group have created fine understanding and a warm spirit of harmonious coordination among the three groups for whom they function.

The Universe is a fashion show for these Galilean protégés with telescopes in hand. The stars are pin holes in velvet; the planets are sequins sewed on. Dr. Powers of Clarkson Tech was a great hit—"a friend is a wealth." That Saturday in the wee hours when young and eager eyes searched the unfathomable stratosphere above. And were you Andromeda or Cassiopeia? This group of young star-gazers love the wide spaces of the exciting heavens. They're always on the watch for something new.

They Flew Through the Air

It was something new in the Plattsburgh State Teachers College Gymnasium—the Tumbling Club that made its public début last March. It has agility, cooperation, and coordination. It held an audience spellbound with an assortment of headstands, somersaults, forward dives, and high back-rolls that looked extemporaneous but really came as the fruition of painstaking hours under the direction of Coach Wiley. It was something new. It will be something traditional. P'burghers of tomorrow—boys and girls from all departments who can meet the required standards—will gain new poise, muscular control, and confidence from the activity that began in '44.

Down the Alley

Strike. Say, these girls really have something on that ball. Who was it that said girls couldn't bowl? Why, the scores they knock down with enviable ease have won them a seat of honor and martial recognition before the eyes of the student body. The fruitful culmination of their efforts was witnessed publicly at the All-College Supper when an award was presented to the outstanding competitor within their ranks.

They Settle World Problems

They're very informal about it—the Eds and Co-eds of the Contemporary Affairs Forum—but they untie the knots of this naughty plane mundane. They do it with a different steering committee and lots of discussion at each meeting in the Student Lounge or at the home of a faculty adviser. And they let anybody who wishes turn a tongue to help, because the club has no fixed membership. The only thing fixed about the organization is the presence of three lively and different "fac" advisers—Dr. Alfred Diebolt, Mr. Charles Smith, and Dr. Stephen Chaconas.

"Trip it lightly as ye go on the light fantastic toe." Sounds good and is good; but girls have to work hard to make good at it. Back-fall, slide-hop, leap-run-run . . . these are but a few of the fundamental patterns in the typical number that charms with its seemingly extempore smoothness. We are proud of these lovely and graceful Plattsburgh State Teachers College co-eds . . . maidens symbolic of Titania and the woodland fairies. Light, imaginative, ethereal are a few words to describe their art when seen at its best in the spring program presented for the college. "They sway, bend, retreat, advance . . . and evermore they dance, they dance."

With a completely all-girl enrollment for the first time in the history of Plattsburgh State Teachers College dramatics, The Footlights Club has had a busy and interesting year. "The Three-Timer," a one-act play, was presented to an invited audience of students and faculty in November. All of the stage-craft work and some of the pantomime rôles connected with the annual Christmas pageant were handled by club personnel. On April 3 "Brief Music," a three-act sentimental comedy of college life, was presented as the major production of the year to a large audience of students, faculty and friends.

Twenty music-loving students gather weekly for orchestral practice under the able conductorship of Dr. Henry Ehlers. Because of the high value which these students place upon music, Dr. Ehlers offers outside assistance to those enthusiasts who seek to ameliorate difficulties. These ever-active musicians—interested in the welfare of their organization—have enriched our college year with their renditions from “the pit.” They deserved the tumultuous applause they received from an appreciative audience at the Annual Musical Week Festival.

They Render Vocal Enjoyment

Organizations have been set up for vocal training, music appreciation, and vocal techniques. More incorporative of the student body is the Girls' Glee Club which assembles weekly for training in singing and tone blending. Through the individual help which is encouraged by the department directors for vocal improvement, these organizations have become an integral part of the cultural pattern of our college life. This year the Girls' Glee Club participated in the College's annual Christmas Candlelight Service, the Music Department's assembly, and broadcasts over WMFF. They climaxed a triumphant music year with the festivities of Music Week.

The Home Economics Club enlightens our professionally minded home economists and affords them social opportunities. The year's activities were introduced by a bang-up party for the newly arrived Frosh. Among the guest speakers of the year were Dr. Ward, Miss Norton, other members of the faculty and Mr. Hall, who spoke of cadet teaching. A high light in the Christmas week of pageantry was the series of afternoon teas at which the Home Economics and Art Departments collaborated in the display of the creative abilities of the students from these respective departments. The timeliness of wartime thrift became the theme of the annual fashion show—a club undertaking received with the greatest enthusiasm. The Home Economics State Convention, held at the nearby Lake Placid Club, was the pièce de résistance in the Club's program of activities. For their services as junior hostesses at the Lake Placid convention and for the skill with which they edited and published the Home Economics State News Letter, they have won acclaim from interested state personalities.

Extra—"Light" Scoops Again!

They doubled their quota of $500 as co-sponsors of the Stamp Drive. They met their deadlines, these energetic scoop-seekers, purveyors of all college news, and burned the midnight oil to publish the Light bi-weekly. Sending copies of the paper to Plattsburgh State Teachers College men in service is another duty which the Northern Light assumes as a contribution to the war effort.

Prophecy for Safety

Mauve-tinged, great wings cut skies like silken cord,
While valleys, deep in forest, slope below;
King Sun, from throne descends with crimson sword
To knight by flame, the brooding peaks of snow.

Wide wings, fly on beyond the scene . . . across
Sharp contoured peaks that lie in perilous peace—
A hazard for the strongest wings. My loss,
Should you your sky supremacy release.

Observant eyes record your flawless flight,
And these decide from deep in nature's lore,
The elements their favor show; tonight
And one fair sunset finds you home once more.

The natural beauties which surround our College campus have made the membership of the Outing Club an ever-growing phenomenon. Despite the sometimes onerous blasts of winter, King Snow is a kindly monarch and plays host to festive skating and skiing parties that help to limber the work-worn muscles. North Country springs and autumns give invitation to long and arduous hikes . . . and none will forget the hearty competitive spirit and hilarious fun provoked by the scavenger hunts.

Bon Appetite

It was a Cook's Tour for the Supper Club this year. The first port of disembarkation for the culinary vagabonds was somewhere in China; the galley-wags heartily partook of a meal supplemented with chopsticks, costumes, and characteristic Eastern music. Symbolic of Sweden was the smörgasbord extravaganga, while tempting Neapolitan delicacies exemplified the appetizing wonders of the Italian cuisine. The All-College Supper, sponsored by the Supper Club, was again one of the most enjoyed festivities of the college year.

It began with coke-tails in the fall—that traditional party where old friends foregather and new friends meet—this year that was all grand in the Alpha Delta Theta way. There was the time Miss Berg and Miss Backus were A. D. hostesses. There was the Gay Nineties rush party—with Gibson Girls, Barbershop Quartets, Romeo and Juliet on a bicycle built for two. There was the Juke Box Jamboree where the sorority made swing-time for the College. There was Hell Week for the pledges, with the inspiration of initiation at the end of purgatorial trial. There is the Grand Finale of the Farewell Banquet. Alpha Delta Theta looks at the future with eyes behind which are memories.

Ago Is a Word for Pal

They were pals together—the Alpha Kappa Phi—through another year of fun. They did the Agonian Hour; and that was radio variety with a seen Frosh audience that liked their stuff. They were queen-pin hostesses at the Night Club Rush Party. They lent a silken helping hand to the other sororities in the Interfraternity Coffee Hour. They told the College "From Whence We Come" in an assembly program that had student sparkle. They pledged their pledgees, proved their characters in Hell Week, and gave them sisterhood in reward. They consecrate their friendship in the banquet that leads 1943-1944 to the treasurehouse of rare Agonian years.

For the Phi Kappa Pi's, '44 was a bang-up year—initiated by a thirst-quenching cider and doughnut party for the Frosh and a theater party for the rushees, complete with the "Daisy Sweet Shoppe," and the traditional Clio fun-loving spirit. Versatility was exemplified by the novel "jingle" assembly program sponsored by the sorority. Memories of laborious hours of planning spent in preparation for the pledge banquet belong to the past—but its ceremonies and solemnity will not be forgotten—nor will the pledgees forget their attractive "warsages." There was, of course, hell week with its fears for pledges and hidden laughs for the ΘKII's. What good sports they all were! This year the literary talents of the Clions were solidly welded together and resulted in the publication of the state sorority magazine—the Clio Daisy—to which we award the coveted "E" for excellence. The arrival of June heralded the farewell breakfast for the Seniors. It was grand, but the good-byes were hard to say.

The newly organized Elementary Club made its debut this winter at a "get acquainted" hour sponsored by the critic teachers of the practice school. Its two-fold purpose is to provide social skills and leadership and to supplement the educational program of the elementary students. The excellent enthusiasm of the group forces keen competition in panel discussions and open forum debates and instigates interest in new teaching techniques through educational movies.
